TURNER'S WILL DECLARED VALID.

The will of Weston B. Turner, dated March 11, 1892, was yesterday declared valid by a jury in Circuit Court No. 2. Mr. Turner and his wife, Ellen V. Turner, were found dead in their home in Falls Church, Va., on March 27, 1892. The double tragedy was investigated by the local police and also the Virginia authorities and the conclusion was reached that the deaths were the result of murder and suicide. By the terms of his will, Turner directed that in the event of his wife's death before he died one-half of his estate should go to her heirs and the remainder to his brother, Jacob Y. Turner. The litigation over the disposition of the estate was commenced soon after the death of Weston B. Turner. The trial of the issues involved was held in Circuit Court No. 1 before Chief Justice Brudman and a jury. The jury failed to agree upon a verdict. An agreement was reached by the parties interested which resulted in the termination of the litigation yesterday by a consent verdict.

GOVERNOR OF ARIZONA PLEADS FOR STATEHOOD

Colonel Brodie Says Territory Deserves Star in the Flag, Population, Resources, and Patriotism Adequate.

The annual report of Col. Alexander Brodie, governor of Arizona, the sixth largest political division of the United States, has been received by the Secretary of the Interior. The general condition of the Territory, which the dignity of Statehood will soon be asked again of Congress, is reported good. Drought caused depression in agriculture and stock raising, but the prosperity of the mining regions more than offset this.

Arizona had in 1900 a population of 122,312, and the governor estimates that, following the rate of increase prevailing for the past twelve years the population may now be safely rated at about 140,000. The census of 1900 shows in ten years the population increased 104.2 per cent. In 1900 the total white population was 92,903, of which 70,508 were of native birth. There were 28,459 Indians in the Territory and less than 2,000 negroes.

The largest city is Tucson with a population of 7,531. There are sixteen incorporated places, but only four have over 2,000 inhabitants.

Property $39,000,000.

Property in the Territory, as shown on the assessor's books, amounts to $39,000,000. Tax rates are said to be excessively high and an equitable system of assessment does not prevail, some of the most profitable as well as the large holdings yielding no taxes under the present plan. Territorial bonds have recently sold at 7 per cent premium. The indebtedness of the Territory is $1,065,461.90 and the credit is excellent.

In the two land districts there are 47,392,662 acres of land unappropriated. Irrigation and agriculture are linked together in Arizona, the latter depending almost entirely on the former. Of the 10,000,000 acres of land available for irrigation 1,000,000 acres have been settled. The people of the Territory are ardent irrigators. The railroad and lumber industries are flourishing.

Mining is the leading industry in Arizona. It has prospered greatly during the past year and new mines are being developed in nearly every part of the Territory. A rich gold-bearing vein has been discovered in the Galluro Mountains. The live stock industry maintains its place of second importance. Live stock valuations amount to $4,341,251. Wild game continues plentiful.

Arizona boasts a splendid school system, comprising primary, common, scientific and mechanical schools and the university. The total school expenditures last year were $401,255.59. The number of teachers employed was 457.

Argument for Statehood.

On the question of Statehood the governor says in part:

"Arizona has passed through all of the various stages of Territorial growth, and today the magnificent development of its resources places the Territory so far advanced that to longer deny the star of Arizona a place upon the flag of our country is regarded here and abroad as an injustice to the people who have so faithfully borne the burden of a Territorial form of government for a period of thirty-eight years. The preparation in all that is required in a Territory—in population, in developed resources, in productiveness, in advanced social conditions, and in patriotism and loyalty to the country and humanity, has reached the highest aim of a great Commonwealth. During the past year the issue of Statehood has been uppermost in the minds of the people of this Territory."

Miss De Sibour died last Sunday, after an illness of six weeks. The immediate relatives of the deceased are Mrs. De Sibour, the mother; Count De Sibour, an officer in the French army, and J. Henri De Sibour, an architect of New York.

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless It is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health. As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, peptic digestive and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion, which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit, as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestives, cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

MRS. KETS KEMETHY HELD IN POLICE COURT

Fired Pistol in Husband's Studio for Jealousy.

Mrs. Josephine Kets Kemethy, charged with assault with intent to kill, pleaded not guilty and waived examination in the Police Court today and was held in bonds of $300 to await the action of the grand jury.

Mrs. Kemethy is apparently about forty years of age. She is the wife of M. Kets Kemethy, the Hungarian photographer, at 1109 Pennsylvania Avenue.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. Kets Kemethy visited her husband's studio, and she says, found there a young woman named Rena Dodson, who lives at 1222 D Street northwest.

This aggravated Mrs. Kets Kemethy, she says, but she insists that she had no intention to hurt anyone. She did go to her room, however, and get a big pistol and fire a shot through the gallery door, which did not hit, but scared the Dodson woman almost out of her wits.

Miss Dodson says she was posing for a photograph when Mrs. Kets Kemethy peeped in at her.

The banner, which is now on exhibition in the office of the First Assistant Postmaster General, was sent from the Philippines to the Brooklyn home of a soldier who had deserted from the United States Army and was refused. BUSINESS SESSION OF THE OXFORD CLASS

Routine Matters Followed by Stories and Refreshments.

The regular meeting of the Oxford class of Epworth M. E. Sunday school was held last night at the home of the teacher, Rev. W. S. Hammond, 515 E Street northeast. A large number of members were in attendance, together with several visitors.

After the transaction of routine business, which included the consideration of new members, and the report of various committees, the evening was given up to story-telling, and related anecdotes. This feature of the Oxford class meetings has proven one of the most enjoyable parts of its gatherings in the past, and the interest manifested last evening, and the pleasure derived, shows that it still returns favor. During a lull in the Speedote Circle's story-telling bee, all adjourned to the dining room, where a sumptuous supper was served. The session lasted until a late hour.

Those present were the Messrs. Van A. Potter, Harry Rozelle, J. T. Stair, H. H. Kinsey, Ed A. Potter, N. W. Galaher, John Coombs, W. F. Hummer, Charles Swindell, S. S. Gaither, W. S. Hammond, and Henry T. Rodier.

EVANGELIST MORGAN TO HOLD REVIVAL MEETINGS

The Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, successor to Moody, the evangelist, will commence a series of revival meetings in Washington on November 29. Dr. Morgan is an Englishman and has been known in England and America for several years. The place for holding the services has not been secured yet. They will extend through nine days. On two Sundays Dr. Morgan will address the Y. M. C. A. at the Columbia Theater. Dr. T. M. Hamlin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, is at the head of the committee on arrangements.

THE DROOPS HOME AGAIN.

E. F. Droop, the well-known dealer in musical instruments on Pennsylvania Avenue, returned on the Kaiser Wilhelm yesterday from an extended tour of Europe. Mr. Droop was accompanied by his wife and his three daughters, Agnes, Gertha, and Anna. The Kaiser Wilhelm had a rough trip. There were only two days on the entire trip on which the passengers could venture out on deck, and for the rest of the time varieties of weather, described in the log as storms, gales, and hail squalls, held full sway.
